Commenced 1 June 2012

Legal Profession (Australian Solicitors Conduct Rules) Notice 2012

Dear Colleague

The Australian Solicitors Conduct Rules 2012 (the ASCR) provide a framework for ethical decision making about what we as solicitors do daily.

In adhering to the ASCR, we uphold the long-standing values of our profession and ensure the integrity of administration of justice for the community.

The ASCR is intended to be the first national set of conduct rules for all Australian solicitors. The Law Council of Australia and its constituent bodies, of which your Society is one, undertook extensive consultation to produce the current ASCR. I would like to acknowledge the extensive research and assistance rendered by the QLS Ethics Committee.

It is undoubtedly true that, as a profession, we have a justified reputation for integrity and service to the law. The ASCR is a statement by us as a Society that we are capable of determining the ethical and professional conduct which we as solicitors strive to achieve daily.

It is the essence of our professional responsibility that we act in the paramount interest of the administration of justice and serve the best interests of our client. The ASCR cannot cover all possible dilemmas or scenarios, but the ethical principles that are enshrined in the ASCR provide each of us the framework to deliver competent and quality legal service to our clients.

The ASCR are rules of professional conduct; they do not detract from us striving each day to maintain the highest possible level of ethical standards.

I commend the ASCR to your consideration.

Yours faithfully,

Noela L'Estrange
Chief Executive Officer

Nature and purpose of the rules

1. Application and interpretation

- 1.1 These Rules apply to all solicitors within Australia, including Australian-registered foreign lawyers acting in the manner of a solicitor.
- 1.2 The definitions that apply in these Rules are set out in the glossary.

2. Purpose and effect of the rules

- 2.1 The purpose of these Rules is to assist solicitors to act ethically and in accordance with the principles of professional conduct established by the common law and these Rules.
- 2.2 In considering whether a solicitor has engaged in unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct, the Rules apply in addition to the common law.
- 2.3 A breach of these Rules is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct, and may give rise to disciplinary action by the relevant regulatory authority, but cannot be enforced by a third party.

Fundamental duties of solicitors

3. Paramount duty to the court and the administration of justice

- 3.1 A solicitor's duty to the court and the administration of justice is paramount and prevails to the extent of inconsistency with any other duty.

4. Other fundamental ethical duties

- 4.1 A solicitor must also:

- 4.1.1 act in the best interests of a client in any matter in which the solicitor represents the client;
- 4.1.2 be honest and courteous in all dealings in the course of legal practice;
- 4.1.3 deliver legal services competently, diligently and as promptly as reasonably possible;
- 4.1.4 avoid any compromise to their integrity and professional independence; and
- 4.1.5 comply with these Rules and the law.

5. Dishonest and disreputable conduct

- 5.1 A solicitor must not engage in conduct, in the course of practice or otherwise, which demonstrates that the solicitor is not a fit and proper person to practise law, or which is likely to a material degree to:
- 5.1.1 be prejudicial to, or diminish the public confidence in, the administration of justice; or
 - 5.1.2 bring the profession into disrepute.

6. Undertakings

- 6.1 A solicitor who has given an undertaking in the course of legal practice must honour that undertaking and ensure the timely and effective performance of the undertaking, unless released by the recipient or by a court of competent jurisdiction.
- 6.2 A solicitor must not seek from another solicitor, or that solicitor's employee, associate, or agent, undertakings in respect of a matter, that would require the co-operation of a third party who is not party to the undertaking.

Relations with clients

7. Communication of advice

- 7.1 A solicitor must provide clear and timely advice to assist a client to understand relevant legal issues and to make informed choices about action to be taken during the course of a matter, consistent with the terms of the engagement.
- 7.2 A solicitor must inform the client or the instructing solicitor about the alternatives to fully contested adjudication of the case which are reasonably available to the client, unless the solicitor believes on reasonable grounds that the client already has such an understanding of those alternatives as to permit the client to make decisions about the client's best interests in relation to the litigation.

8. Client instructions

- 8.1 A solicitor must follow a client's lawful, proper and competent instructions.

9. Confidentiality

- 9.1 A solicitor must not disclose any information which is confidential to a client and acquired by the solicitor during the client's engagement to any person who is not:
 - 9.1.1 a solicitor who is a partner, principal, director, or employee of the solicitor's law practice; or
 - 9.1.2 a barrister or an employee of, or person otherwise engaged by, the solicitor's law practice or by an associated entity for the purposes of delivering or administering legal services in relation to the client,EXCEPT as permitted in Rule 9.2.
- 9.2 A solicitor may disclose confidential client information if:
 - 9.2.1 the client expressly or impliedly authorises disclosure;
 - 9.2.2 the solicitor is permitted or is compelled by law to disclose;
 - 9.2.3 the solicitor discloses the information in a confidential setting, for the sole purpose of obtaining advice in connection with the solicitor's legal or ethical obligations;
 - 9.2.4 the solicitor discloses the information for the sole purpose of avoiding the probable commission of a serious criminal offence;
 - 9.2.5 the solicitor discloses the information for the purpose of preventing imminent serious physical harm to the client or to another person; or
 - 9.2.6 the information is disclosed to the insurer of the solicitor, law practice or associated entity.

10. Conflicts concerning former clients

- 10.1 A solicitor and law practice must avoid conflicts between the duties owed to current and former clients, except as permitted by Rule 10.2.
- 10.2 A solicitor or law practice who or which is in possession of confidential information of a former client where that information might reasonably be concluded to be material to the matter of another client and detrimental to the interests of the former client if disclosed, must not act for the current client in that matter UNLESS:
 - 10.2.1 the former client has given informed written consent to the solicitor or law practice so acting; or
 - 10.2.2 an effective information barrier has been established.

11. Conflict of duties concerning current clients

- 11.1 A solicitor and a law practice must avoid conflicts between the duties owed to two or more current clients, except where permitted by this Rule.
- 11.2 If a solicitor or a law practice seeks to act for two or more clients in the same or related matters where the clients' interests are adverse and there is a conflict or potential conflict of the duties to act in the best interests of each client, the solicitor or law practice must not act, except where permitted by Rule 11.3.
- 11.3 Where a solicitor or law practice seeks to act in the circumstances specified in Rule 11.2, the solicitor may, subject always to each solicitor discharging their duty to act in the best interests of their client, only act if each client:
 - 11.3.1 is aware that the solicitor or law practice is also acting for another client; and
 - 11.3.2 has given informed consent to the solicitor or law practice so acting.
- 11.4 In addition to the requirements of Rule 11.3, where a solicitor or law practice is in possession of confidential information of a client (the first client) which might reasonably be concluded to be material to another client's current matter and detrimental to the interests of the first client if disclosed, there is a conflict of duties and the solicitor and the solicitor's law practice must not act for the other client, except as follows:
 - 11.4.1 a solicitor may act where there is a conflict of duties arising from the possession of confidential information, where each client has given informed consent to the solicitor acting for another client;
 - 11.4.2 a law practice (and the solicitors concerned) may act where there is a conflict of duties arising from the possession of confidential information where an effective information barrier has been established.
- 11.5 If a solicitor or a law practice acts for more than one client in a matter and, during the course of the conduct of that matter, an actual conflict arises between the duties owed to two or more of those clients, the solicitor or law practice may only continue to act for one of the clients (or a group of clients between whom there is no conflict) provided that the duty of confidentiality to other client(s) is not put at risk and the parties have given informed consent.

12. Conflict concerning a solicitor's own interests

- 12.1 A solicitor must not act for a client where there is a conflict between the duty to serve the best interests of a client and the interests of the solicitor or an associate of the solicitor, except as permitted by this Rule.
- 12.2 A solicitor must not exercise any undue influence intended to dispose the client to benefit the solicitor in excess of the solicitor's fair remuneration for legal services provided to the client.
- 12.3 A solicitor must not borrow any money, nor assist an associate to borrow money, from:
- 12.3.1 a client of the solicitor or of the solicitor's law practice; or
 - 12.3.2 a former client of the solicitor or of the solicitor's law practice who has indicated a continuing reliance upon the advice of the solicitor or of the solicitor's law practice in relation to the investment of money,

UNLESS the client is:

- (i) an Authorised Deposit-taking Institution;
 - (ii) a trustee company;
 - (iii) the responsible entity of a managed investment scheme registered under Chapter 5C of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) or a custodian for such a scheme;
 - (iv) an associate of the solicitor and the solicitor is able to discharge the onus of proving that a full written disclosure was made to the client and that the client's interests are protected in the circumstances, whether by legal representation or otherwise; or
 - (v) the employer of the solicitor.
- 12.4 A solicitor will not have breached this Rule merely by:
- 12.4.1 drawing a Will appointing the solicitor or an associate of the solicitor as executor, provided the solicitor informs the client in writing before the client signs the Will:
 - (i) of any entitlement of the solicitor, or the solicitor's law practice or associate, to claim executor's commission;
 - (ii) of the inclusion in the Will of any provision entitling the solicitor, or the solicitor's law practice or associate, to charge legal costs in relation to the administration of the estate; and
 - (iii) if the solicitor or the solicitor's law practice or associate has an entitlement to claim commission, that the client could appoint as executor a person who might make no claim for executor's commission.
 - 12.4.2 drawing a Will or other instrument under which the solicitor (or the solicitor's law practice or associate) will or may receive a substantial benefit other than any proper entitlement to executor's commission and proper fees, provided the person instructing the solicitor is either:
 - (i) a member of the solicitor's immediate family; or
 - (ii) a solicitor, or a member of the immediate family of a solicitor, who is a partner, employer, or employee, of the solicitor.

- 12.4.3 receiving a financial benefit from a third party in relation to any dealing where the solicitor represents a client, or from another service provider to whom a client has been referred by the solicitor, provided that the solicitor advises the client:
- (i) that a commission or benefit is or may be payable to the solicitor in respect of the dealing or referral and the nature of that commission or benefit;
 - (ii) that the client may refuse any referral, and
- the client has given informed consent to the commission or benefit received or which may be received.
- 12.4.4 acting for a client in any dealing in which a financial benefit may be payable to a third party for referring the client, provided that the solicitor has first disclosed the payment or financial benefit to the client.

13. Completion or termination of engagement

- 13.1 A solicitor with designated responsibility for a client's matter must ensure completion of the legal services for that matter UNLESS:
- 13.1.1 the client has otherwise agreed;
 - 13.1.2 the law practice is discharged from the engagement by the client;
 - 13.1.3 the law practice terminates the engagement for just cause and on reasonable notice; or
 - 13.1.4 the engagement comes to an end by operation of law.
- 13.2 Where a client is required to stand trial for a serious criminal offence, the client's failure to make satisfactory arrangements for the payment of costs will not normally justify termination of the engagement UNLESS the solicitor or law practice has:
- 13.2.1 served written notice on the client of the solicitor's intention, a reasonable time before the date appointed for commencement of the trial or the commencement of the sittings of the court in which the trial is listed, providing the client at least seven (7) days to make satisfactory arrangements for payment of the solicitor's costs; and
 - 13.2.2 given appropriate notice to the registrar of the court in which the trial is listed to commence.
- 13.3 Where a client is legally assisted and the grant of aid is withdrawn or otherwise terminated, a solicitor or law practice may terminate the engagement by giving reasonable notice in writing to the client, such that the client has a reasonable opportunity to make other satisfactory arrangements for payment of costs which would be incurred if the engagement continued.

14. Client documents

- 14.1 A solicitor with designated responsibility for a client's matter, must ensure that, upon completion or termination of the law practice's engagement:
- 14.1.1 the client or former client; or
 - 14.1.2 another person authorised by the client or former client,
- is given any client documents, (or if they are electronic documents copies of those documents), as soon as reasonably possible when requested to do so by the client, unless there is an effective lien.
- 14.2 A solicitor or solicitor's law practice may destroy client documents after a period of 7 years has elapsed since the completion or termination of the engagement, except where there are client instructions or legislation to the contrary.

15. Lien over essential documents

- 15.1 Notwithstanding Rule 14, when a solicitor claims to exercise a lien for unpaid legal costs over client documents which are essential to the client's defence or prosecution of current proceedings:
- 15.1.1 if another solicitor is acting for the client, the first solicitor must surrender the documents to the second solicitor:
 - (i) if the second solicitor undertakes to hold the documents subject to the lien and with reasonable security for the unpaid costs; or
 - (ii) if the first solicitor agrees to the second solicitor agreeing to pay, or entering into an agreement with the client to procure payment of, the first solicitor's costs upon completion of the relevant proceedings.
 - 15.1.2 alternatively, the solicitor, upon receiving reasonable security for the unpaid costs, must deliver the documents to the client.

16. Charging for document storage

- 16.1 a solicitor must not charge:
- 16.1.1 for the storage of documents, files or other property on behalf of clients or former clients of the solicitor or law practice (or predecessors in practice); or
 - 16.1.2 for retrieval from storage of those documents, files or other property,
- UNLESS the client or former client has agreed in writing to such charge being made.

Advocacy and litigation

17. Independence – avoidance of personal bias

- 17.1 A solicitor representing a client in a matter that is before the court must not act as the mere mouthpiece of the client or of the instructing solicitor (if any) and must exercise the forensic judgments called for during the case independently, after the appropriate consideration of the client's and the instructing solicitor's instructions where applicable.
- 17.2 A solicitor will not have breached the solicitor's duty to the client, and will not have failed to give appropriate consideration to the client's or the instructing solicitor's instructions, simply by choosing, contrary to those instructions, to exercise the forensic judgments called for during the case so as to:
- 17.2.1 confine any hearing to those issues which the solicitor believes to be the real issues;
 - 17.2.2 present the client's case as quickly and simply as may be consistent with its robust advancement; or
 - 17.2.3 inform the court of any persuasive authority against the client's case.
- 17.3 A solicitor must not make submissions or express views to a court on any material evidence or issue in the case in terms which convey or appear to convey the solicitor's personal opinion on the merits of that evidence or issue.
- 17.4 A solicitor must not become the surety for the client's bail.

18. Formality before the court

- 18.1 A solicitor must not, in the presence of any of the parties or solicitors, deal with a court on terms of informal personal familiarity which may reasonably give the appearance that the solicitor has special favour with the court.

19. Frankness in court

- 19.1 A solicitor must not deceive or knowingly or recklessly mislead the court.
- 19.2 A solicitor must take all necessary steps to correct any misleading statement made by the solicitor to a court as soon as possible after the solicitor becomes aware that the statement was misleading.
- 19.3 A solicitor will not have made a misleading statement to a court simply by failing to correct an error in a statement made to the court by the opponent or any other person.
- 19.4 A solicitor seeking any interlocutory relief in an ex parte application must disclose to the court all factual or legal matters which:
- 19.4.1 are within the solicitor's knowledge;
 - 19.4.2 are not protected by legal professional privilege; and
 - 19.4.3 the solicitor has reasonable grounds to believe would support an argument against granting the relief or limiting its terms adversely to the client.

- 19.5 A solicitor who has knowledge of matters which are within Rule 19.4 must:
- 19.5.1 seek instructions for the waiver of legal professional privilege, if the matters are protected by that privilege, so as to permit the solicitor to disclose those matters under Rule 19.4; and
 - 19.5.2 if the client does not waive the privilege as sought by the solicitor:
 - (i) must inform the client of the client's responsibility to authorise such disclosure and the possible consequences of not doing so; and
 - (ii) must inform the court that the solicitor cannot assure the court that all matters which should be disclosed have been disclosed to the court.
- 19.6 A solicitor must, at the appropriate time in the hearing of the case if the court has not yet been informed of that matter, inform the court of:
- 19.6.1 any binding authority;
 - 19.6.2 where there is no binding authority, any authority decided by an Australian appellate court; and
 - 19.6.3 any applicable legislation,
- known to the solicitor and which the solicitor has reasonable grounds to believe to be directly in point, against the client's case.
- 19.7 A solicitor need not inform the court of matters within Rule 19.6 at a time when the opponent tells the court that the opponent's whole case will be withdrawn or the opponent will consent to final judgment in favour of the client, unless the appropriate time for the solicitor to have informed the court of such matters in the ordinary course has already arrived or passed.
- 19.8 A solicitor who becomes aware of matters within Rule 19.6 after judgment or decision has been reserved and while it remains pending, whether the authority or legislation came into existence before or after argument, must inform the court of that matter by:
- 19.8.1 a letter to the court, copied to the opponent, and limited to the relevant reference unless the opponent has consented beforehand to further material in the letter; or
 - 19.8.2 requesting the court to relist the case for further argument on a convenient date, after first notifying the opponent of the intended request and consulting the opponent as to the convenient date for further argument.
- 19.9 A solicitor need not inform the court of any matter otherwise within Rule 19.8 which would have rendered admissible any evidence tendered by the prosecution which the court has ruled inadmissible without calling on the defence.
- 19.10 A solicitor who knows or suspects that the prosecution is unaware of the client's previous conviction must not ask a prosecution witness whether there are previous convictions, in the hope of a negative answer.
- 19.11 A solicitor must inform the court of any misapprehension by the court as to the effect of an order which the court is making, as soon as the solicitor becomes aware of the misapprehension.
- 19.12 A solicitor must alert the opponent and if necessary inform the court if any express concession made in the course of a trial in civil proceedings by the opponent about evidence, case-law or legislation is to the knowledge of the solicitor contrary to the true position and is believed by the solicitor to have been made by mistake.

20. Delinquent or guilty clients

- 20.1 A solicitor who, as a result of information provided by the client or a witness called on behalf of the client, learns during a hearing or after judgment or the decision is reserved and while it remains pending, that the client or a witness called on behalf of the client:
- 20.1.1 has lied in a material particular to the court or has procured another person to lie to the court;
 - 20.1.2 has falsified or procured another person to falsify in any way a document which has been tendered; or
 - 20.1.3 has suppressed or procured another person to suppress material evidence upon a topic where there was a positive duty to make disclosure to the court;
- must –
- 20.1.4 advise the client that the court should be informed of the lie, falsification or suppression and request authority so to inform the court; and
 - 20.1.5 refuse to take any further part in the case unless the client authorises the solicitor to inform the court of the lie, falsification or suppression and must promptly inform the court of the lie, falsification or suppression upon the client authorising the solicitor to do so but otherwise may not inform the court of the lie, falsification or suppression.
- 20.2 A solicitor whose client in criminal proceedings confesses guilt to the solicitor but maintains a plea of not guilty:
- 20.2.1 may cease to act, if there is enough time for another solicitor to take over the case properly before the hearing, and the client does not insist on the solicitor continuing to appear for the client;
 - 20.2.2 in cases where the solicitor continues to act for the client:
 - (i) must not falsely suggest that some other person committed the offence charged;
 - (ii) must not set up an affirmative case inconsistent with the confession;
 - (iii) may argue that the evidence as a whole does not prove that the client is guilty of the offence charged;
 - (iv) may argue that for some reason of law the client is not guilty of the offence charged; and
 - (v) may argue that for any other reason not prohibited by (i) and (ii) the client should not be convicted of the offence charged;
 - 20.2.3 must not continue to act if the client insists on giving evidence denying guilt or requires the making of a statement asserting the client's innocence.
- 20.3 A solicitor whose client informs the solicitor that the client intends to disobey a court's order must:
- 20.3.1 advise the client against that course and warn the client of its dangers;
 - 20.3.2 not advise the client how to carry out or conceal that course; and
 - 20.3.3 not inform the court or the opponent of the client's intention unless:
 - (i) the client has authorised the solicitor to do so beforehand; or
 - (ii) the solicitor believes on reasonable grounds that the client's conduct constitutes a threat to any person's safety.

21. Responsible use of court process and privilege

- 21.1 A solicitor must take care to ensure that the solicitor's advice to invoke the coercive powers of a court:
- 21.1.1 is reasonably justified by the material then available to the solicitor;
 - 21.1.2 is appropriate for the robust advancement of the client's case on its merits;
 - 21.1.3 is not made principally in order to harass or embarrass a person; and
 - 21.1.4 is not made principally in order to gain some collateral advantage for the client or the solicitor or the instructing solicitor out of court.
- 21.2 A solicitor must take care to ensure that decisions by the solicitor to make allegations or suggestions under privilege against any person:
- 21.2.1 are reasonably justified by the material then available to the solicitor;
 - 21.2.2 are appropriate for the robust advancement of the client's case on its merits; and
 - 21.2.3 are not made principally in order to harass or embarrass a person.
- 21.3 A solicitor must not allege any matter of fact in:
- 21.3.1 any court document settled by the solicitor;
 - 21.3.2 any submission during any hearing;
 - 21.3.3 the course of an opening address; or
 - 21.3.4 the course of a closing address or submission on the evidence,
- unless the solicitor believes on reasonable grounds that the factual material already available provides a proper basis to do so.
- 21.4 A solicitor must not allege any matter of fact amounting to criminality, fraud or other serious misconduct against any person unless the solicitor believes on reasonable grounds that:
- 21.4.1 available material by which the allegation could be supported provides a proper basis for it; and
 - 21.4.2 the client wishes the allegation to be made, after having been advised of the seriousness of the allegation and of the possible consequences for the client and the case if it is not made out.
- 21.5 A solicitor must not make a suggestion in cross-examination on credit unless the solicitor believes on reasonable grounds that acceptance of the suggestion would diminish the credibility of the evidence of the witness.
- 21.6 A solicitor may regard the opinion of an instructing solicitor that material which is available to the instructing solicitor is credible, being material which appears to the solicitor from its nature to support an allegation to which Rules 21.1, 21.2, 21.3 and 21.4 apply as a reasonable ground for holding the belief required by those Rules (except in the case of a closing address or submission on the evidence).
- 21.7 A solicitor who has instructions which justify submissions for the client in mitigation of the client's criminality which involve allegations of serious misconduct against any other person not able to answer the allegations in the case must seek to avoid disclosing the other person's identity directly or indirectly unless the solicitor believes on reasonable grounds that such disclosure is necessary for the proper conduct of the client's case.

21.8 Without limiting the generality of Rule 21.2, in proceedings in which an allegation of sexual assault, indecent assault or the commission of an act of indecency is made and in which the alleged victim gives evidence:

21.8.1 a solicitor must not ask that witness a question or pursue a line of questioning of that witness which is intended:

- (i) to mislead or confuse the witness; or
- (ii) to be unduly annoying, harassing, intimidating, offensive, oppressive, humiliating or repetitive; and 21.8.2 a solicitor must take into account any particular vulnerability of the witness in the manner and tone of the questions that the solicitor asks.

22. Communication with opponents

22.1 A solicitor must not knowingly make a false statement to an opponent in relation to the case (including its compromise).

22.2 A solicitor must take all necessary steps to correct any false statement made by the solicitor to an opponent as soon as possible after the solicitor becomes aware that the statement was false.

22.3 A solicitor will not have made a false statement to the opponent simply by failing to correct an error on any matter stated to the solicitor by the opponent.

22.4 A solicitor must not confer or deal with any party represented by or to the knowledge of the solicitor indemnified by an insurer, unless the party and the insurer have signified willingness to that course.

22.5 A solicitor must not, outside an ex parte application or a hearing of which an opponent has had proper notice, communicate in the opponent's absence with the court concerning any matter of substance in connection with current proceedings unless:

22.5.1 the court has first communicated with the solicitor in such a way as to require the solicitor to respond to the court; or

22.5.2 the opponent has consented beforehand to the solicitor communicating with the court in a specific manner notified to the opponent by the solicitor.

22.6 A solicitor must promptly tell the opponent what passes between the solicitor and a court in a communication referred to in Rule 22.5.

22.7 A solicitor must not raise any matter with a court in connection with current proceedings on any occasion to which an opponent has consented under Rule 22.5.2 other than the matters specifically notified by the solicitor to the opponent when seeking the opponent's consent.

22.8 A solicitor must take steps to inform the opponent as soon as possible after the solicitor has reasonable grounds to believe that there will be an application on behalf of the client to adjourn any hearing, of that fact and the grounds of the application, and must try, with the opponent's consent, to inform the court of that application promptly.

23. Opposition access to witnesses

- 23.1 A solicitor must not take any step to prevent or discourage a prospective witness or a witness from conferring with an opponent or being interviewed by or on behalf of any other person involved in the proceedings.
- 23.2 A solicitor will not have breached Rule 23.1 simply by telling a prospective witness or a witness that he or she need not agree to confer or to be interviewed or by advising about relevant obligations of confidentiality.

24. Integrity of evidence – influencing evidence

- 24.1 A solicitor must not:
- 24.1.1 advise or suggest to a witness that false or misleading evidence should be given nor condone another person doing so; or
 - 24.1.2 coach a witness by advising what answers the witness should give to questions which might be asked.
- 24.2 A solicitor will not have breached Rules 24.1 by:
- 24.2.1 expressing a general admonition to tell the truth;
 - 24.2.2 questioning and testing in conference the version of evidence to be given by a prospective witness; or
 - 24.2.3 drawing the witness's attention to inconsistencies or other difficulties with the evidence, but must not encourage the witness to give evidence different from the evidence which the witness believes to be true.

25. Integrity of evidence – two witnesses together

- 25.1 A solicitor must not confer with, or condone another solicitor conferring with, more than one lay witness (including a party or client) at the same time:
- 25.1.1 about any issue which there are reasonable grounds for the solicitor to believe may be contentious at a hearing; and
