

QLS Update

Editorial policy and contributor guidelines 2011

QLS Update is a popular weekly email news service for the Queensland legal profession that keeps members and informed of the latest industry developments.

The latest news, special offers, tools and resources are only a click away for those who receive this online QLS publication.

The following are the basic criteria for submissions to QLS Update:

- Relevance and interest to practitioners – the starting point is what practitioners need to know, closely followed by what they should know about, and then items that might interest them.
- There is no formal word limit for submissions, but generally items should be less than 200 words.
- Submissions should be in Microsoft Word format and accompanied by any website or other links. Linking documents should be in PDF or JPG formats, or linked to a web address.
- Articles should be submitted by email to news@qls.com.au. Article inclusion is at the editor's discretion.
- Articles deemed to include commercial content or that read like 'advertorial' will not be included.
- Information must be timely, due to the weekly nature of the Update.
- Items are generally listed in order of their perceived importance.
- The deadline to submit material for inclusion in the QLS Update is 12pm of the Friday before the Update is distributed.
