Dear Minister

Proposed Amendments to the Local Government Electoral (Implementing Stage 1 of Belcarra) and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2018

We refer to your media statement issued on 10 May 2018 announcing that the Government will introduce amendments to the Local Government Electoral (Implementing Stage 1 of Belcarra) and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2018 (the Bill) in the next parliamentary sitting which will provide for the automatic suspension of any mayor or councillor charged with one of a series of serious integrity offences.

We note that this Bill has already progressed through the Parliamentary Committee process, with the report being published on 23 April 2018. It appears these new amendments will not have the benefit of scrutiny and review offered by this process. On this basis, we call for the draft amendments to be released to the public prior to their introduction to Parliament or preferably, that they be introduced in their own Bill to be considered by a Parliamentary Committee independently.

Based on the media statement, the Queensland Law Society is concerned that automatic suspension flowing from a charge, rather than a conviction relating to a criminal offence, may run contrary to the principle of the presumption of innocence. Any encroachment on this fundamental principle must be appropriately justified as necessary in the public interest, for example, in order to protect the public from imminent harm.

In our view, the question of deciding whether a mayor or councillor should be suspended after being charged with a criminal offence should not be based on the offence alone but should be a finding made on evidence of a sufficient nexus between the offence, the office as councillor and the likelihood of imminent risk of physical or significant harm to the public.

In each case, the councillor should have a right to challenge the suspension and to seek legal advice.
